It is currently owned by Brookfield Properties Retail Group. History Opened in April 1981, the mall was an anchor tenant and the first to be built in suburban West Conshohocken, but in the late 1980s it began to deteriorate and was subsequently converted to a Target. The mall's anchors, initially as planned, were the Harris-Talcott, then Macy's, followed by a Boscov's, which closed in 2001. A couple of years later, the mall was purchased by Starwood, which converted it to a Towne Center. The original Anchor's have now closed and are awaiting demolition. At one point, there were over 90 stores. The local community suffered a population loss as it began to decline. In 2010, anchors Lazarus, which had closed its original store at the mall in 2009, was slated to be revived as a "destination store". Lazarus opened in October 2010. In 2013, Brookfield Properties purchased the mall for US 82157476af
